

Disclaimer

2026-09-12

This document applies to all information about the La Vista Algorfa project that the developer, DUTCH SPAIN INVEST S.L. (NIF B56380033), makes available through this website and the agent pack: texts, photographs, renders, floor plans, areas, prices and availability.

1. Information without obligation

All information is indicative. It has been compiled with care but may contain errors or omissions. No rights can be derived from descriptions, images, floor plans, areas, prices or availability. The developer may change the information at any time without notice. Renders and artist impressions give an impression; the finished building may differ.

2. Always contact the developer first

Prices and availability change. Before you present an apartment to a client or quote a price, always contact the developer first to have the current price, availability and specifications confirmed. Only the developer's written confirmation is binding.

3. No liability

The developer is not liable for any damage or costs arising from the use of this information, from errors or omissions in it, or from decisions taken on the basis of it, by you or by your clients.

4. Use of the material

The material in the agent pack may only be used to offer the La Vista Algorfa project. You may not alter it, remove the logo or use it for other projects. All rights remain with the developer.

5. Agreement

By downloading the pack you declare that you have read this document and agree to it. This document is part of every download.
